Standing Up For Our Clients When They Cannot Stand Up For Themselves

Owen, Patterson & Owen was founded on the belief that every client is treated as the firm's only client. The firm's practice areas include every type of personal injury case, ranging from motor vehicle accidents to complex products liability cases.

Since 1977, the firm's lawyers have obtained settlements and verdicts totaling several hundred million dollars. They have the skills and knowledge necessary to build the bridge that connects their clients with the protections they are entitled to by law. "We are there to fight the fight when our clients can't. Underdogs don't often have people standing in their corner," says managing partner Susan Owen. "We are the firm to do that for them."
